

L & L LAWYERS

5. There were no word to word copying of your client's works and our client denies there were substantial similarity in the respective works of both parties. The terms used in Enrich Publication were generic in all circumstances.

Your client's allegations were totally groundless and frivolous. Any legal action against our client will be defended strenuously at the sole cost of your client to ours on indemnity basis.

Yours faithfully,
